We are confident that our breeding program is heading the right direction and we strive to be the one of the leaders in the sheep industry.

What really counts about our sheep program throughout the years is the impact it has had on our family. The many hours on the highway, the sacrifices, the countless days of working together with the sheep as a family and all the friends we have made along the way are what really matters. Our door is open to anyone who is interested in our sheep. We appreciate our customers and all the time each one of you have given to our show lambs. We feel extremely blessed to be part of the sheep industry.
